

The Talent Officer Conference

If the sequel to the new economy is anything like the original, the game is not over.

Competition for the best talent is still strong and developing a high quality workforce is as important as ever.

Ultimately, whoever has the best talent will win.

Having the right strategy is as essential as finding the tools a talent officer needs to succeed.

We've brought it all together at Talent 2001.
